

www.pq.am

October 2014

With immediate effect we are offering

Student Assistant Communication & Marketing

For our offices in Berlin

About Us

pq is an innovative app by Choirs Internet, allowing you to take a 'peek' of your friends' everyday lives. Founder Julia came up with the idea summer 2013, with no other app on the market fulfilling her need for an easy way to stay in touch. Designed and built with love in Berlin Germany, pq wants to make video communication possible everywhere, independent of internet speed and country.

The Opportunity

We are currently looking for support in our communications team.

- Create marketing content for all of our channels
- Give advice to the management on improving current strategies
- Support the marketing team with creative input

Work in a fun environment where you and your input is valued.

- Directly see how your results are developed into a new product
- Take on responsibilities and work independently
- Be surrounded by creative people and learn new things every day

Profiles We Are Looking For

- Students from any discipline with high affiliation to the US market
- Excellent writing skills (English)
- Knowledge of quantitative and qualitative research methods
- Outstanding communication, research and problem-solving skills
- Highly active on Social Media (FB, Pinterest, Twitter)
- Cultural sensitivity and network in the US

As student assistant we expect you to work 10hrs/week, with the possibility of individually adjusting your time.

We look forward to your application.

Please send your CV, cover letter and if possible writing samples to Julia at jobs@pq.am